

Landon

Mackenzie

Landon Mackenzie is a Canadian artist who has built an impressive body of work. Perhaps best known for Lost River Series, and her complex mapping paintings, Mackenzie's pictures are widely exhibited in Canada and internationally and collected by museums including the National Gallery of Canada, the Vancouver Art Gallery, the Art Gallery of Ontario, the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts and the Musée d'art contemporain de Montréal, among others. Raised in Toronto, She hold a BFA from Nova Scotia College of Art and Design (NSCAD) in Halifax (1972-1976) and an MFA from Concordia University in Montréal (1979). She has received numerous awards including the Golden and Diamond Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee Medals, and the (2017) Governor General's Award in Visual and Media Arts. Her work has been extensively written about. Based in Vancouver, Mackenzie is professor at Emily Carr University.

COMMISSIONS, PUBLICATIONS, PROJECTS

2016 The exterior colour design (spandrel glass colours) for the new Emily Carr University of Art and Design. Mackenzie made a palette of 15 colours based on historic work of Emily Carr's work from 1900 to her death in 1945 with colleague Ben Reeves. Mackenzie designed the unique rhythm arrangements on the multiple sides of this new Diamond Schmidt Architect's campus, Vancouver, Canada

2014 Map of the World. Hand knotted wool and silk 16' round carpet and made for Mackenzie in China to use in her dialogue with Carr exhibition at the Vancouver Art Gallery. The map invites visitors to sit or lie down in the gallery to rest, chat, leave children, or experience the show from the floor. The piece was designed to echo the dimensions of the VAG's historic skylight oculus, Vancouver, Canada
